I will treat you like family.

Treating my clients like family is really a combination of the various procedures, benefits and ethics that I use in the course of my business. Bloodhound Home Inspection Services is the only choice of many families because I am the only truly independent home inspector listed in the area. Your peace of mind is my ultimate goal.

I provide a more thorough home inspection.

I use thermal imaging technology during each home inspection to find possible trouble spots that other home inspectors can't detect. Without the use of thermal imaging, other home inspectors will miss important defects in the home that will cost you money.

In order to provide a quality home inspection for you and your family, it is important to be able to inspect for wood-destroying organisms (WDO). Many home inspectors in the Youngstown area are not licensed to perform WDO inspections, but I am, and I consider it too important for the protection of you and your family, so I go the extra mile for you.

Radon is a serious issue that has come to light in recent years. Don't let anyone tell you that your home is safe unless it has been tested. Radon is a colorless, tasteless and odorless gas that comes from the earth. The only way to know the level in your new home is to have it tested. Protect your family and have your home tested for radon during your home inspection.

I am one of the only Certified Master Inspectors® in the area.

As a Certified Master Inspector® (CMI), I hold the inspection industry's top professional designation, which is awarded only to qualified and experienced inspectors who have demonstrated a high level of competency in multiple areas.
