Home Energy Tune-up<sup>SM</sup>

Home Energy Tune-up<sup>SM</sup> will put your home in top condition – comfortable to live in, and with energy costs under control.

Energy bills are the second largest cost of owning a home and, with rising energy prices, home buyers are increasingly concerned about energy efficiency. The Home Energy Tune-up<sup>SM</sup> was designed to improve the energy efficiency of existing homes by as much as 25 %.

Richardson Home Inspections, LLC has teamed with CMC Energy Services in offering you this new service that addresses your energy concerns.

After our Certified Inspector collects information about your home, you will get a detailed report that lists:

- An inventory of all energy using systems and major appliances; an analysis of heating and cooling systems, existing insulation, windows, thermostat controls and hot water heater.
- A list of cost effective recommended upgrades.
- An estimate of energy savings and replacement costs for all recommended equipment upgrades.
- Assistance finding contractors and suppliers to install recommended measures and the assistance of a "Personal Shopper" service to oversee price, selection and implementation.
- For existing homes, information that may be used to determine what equipment may be eligible for financing.
