When looking for an inspection service that will give you honest advice you feel comfortable trusting, you won't need to look further than Advantage Home and Property Inspection. For most, the purchase of a home may be the biggest investment they will ever make. Owner/Inspector Steve DeGiulio wants to help make the inspection experience as stress-free as possible while still being informative.

Steve DeGiulio is proud to celebrate ten years of service to Southeast Idaho. He has been a member of INTERNACHI since 2008. Every inspection performed by Advantage Home and Property Inspections is scheduled and completed in a timely manner. Steve DeGiulio offers in-depth, professional inspections complete with Radon measuring, thermal imaging, and provides foundation certification. Additionally, all reporting during inspection is done electronically; in most cases, the final report is emailed to the client before Steve leaves the jobsite.

Whether you are buying or selling a home, letting Advantage Home and Property Inspections perform your home inspection will give you peace of mind about the property in question. Steve Degiulio worked in the construction industry for many years before deciding to attend the Better School of Building Inspection. He completed courses for residential, commercial and new construction by 2007. With his knowledge, years of experience, and latest technology, you'll rest assured knowing you have an Advantage with your inspection.

Steve DeGiulio would also like to take the time to thank his current and past clients. Your support and referrals over the years are very much appreciated!
